

I am concerned that the National Association of Broadcasters is attempting to again try and stop new technology from being developed. As with satellite TV competition they again are taking on the satellite radio systems. It is my hope that this self centered organization is not successful in there attempt to stop the local traffic and weather programing being provided by satellite radio. I can't beleive they would attempt to stop this service and try and use the commission to get it done. Don't let them stop this technology from developing. Competition will only help develop a better programming system throught out the country.
Thank you

Ed Redfer